

Creating a Project Directory

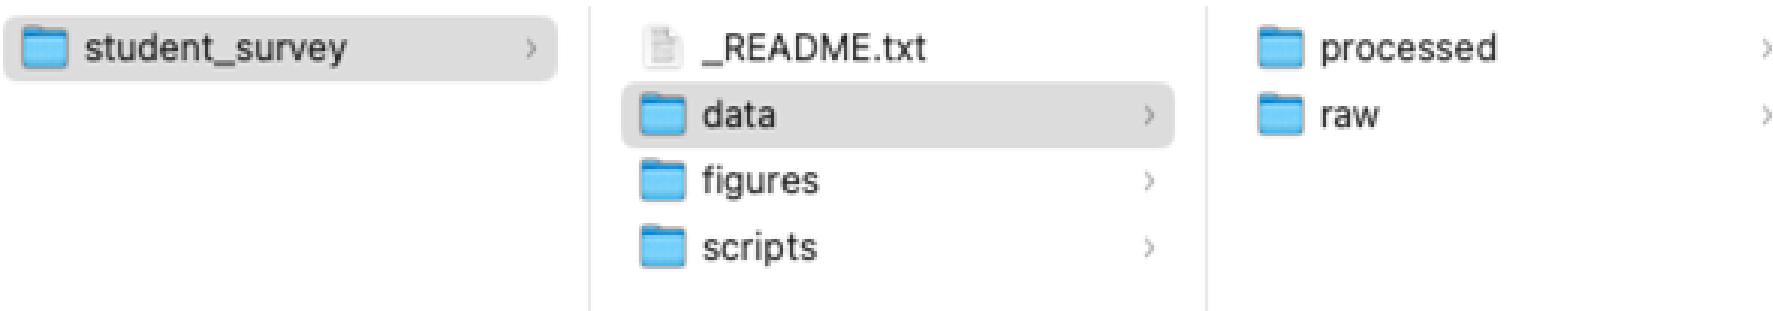

Session Objectives

By the end of this session, you'll be able to:

- Create a project directory.
- Organize files and folders within the project following a given directory structure and naming convention.

Activity

Your supervisor has given you the directory structure she'd like you to use for your work wrangling the student survey data. It looks like this:

Activity

For this activity, you will work in breakout groups to replicate this directory structure on your own computers, and organize project files into their corresponding folders. In your groups:

- Replicate this file structure on your own computers.
- Organize project files you've already created into these folders.
- When you're ready, share your screen with your group and breakout room facilitator to make sure your file organization is good to go!

You will have 30 minutes in the breakout rooms.
